

Ruberoid on Floors

Ruberoid roofing makes a splendid floor covering for an office or workroom.

It is almost impossible to wear it out. It lays as smooth as linoleum and costs only one-fourth as much.

As a roofing, it has no equal. It is absolutely waterproof, acid-proof and fire-resisting.

It will last longer than tin, iron or shingles, and costs far less.

No skill required to lay it.

Don't neglect your cough. Stop it at once and drive away all thought of consumption. Begin as early as possible—the sooner the better—to take the most effective remedy for coughs and colds of every kind and in every stage.

One of the most annoying coughs is a throat cough, where you have a constant tickling in your throat. It comes on worse at night, keeps you awake, and makes you have that smothered feeling in the chest. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral quiets the cough, makes breathing easy, and heals the lungs. There is no other remedy so surely to be relied on.

There are many substitutes and imitations. Beware of them and of so-called "Genuine Cherry Pectoral." Be sure you get AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

Put up in large and small bottles.

SPORTS

SULLIVAN HAD AN EASY TIME OF IT

SILVA DID NOT SHOW TO THE FANS HIS RIGHT TO THE TITLE OF "DEMON."

Wildly enthusiastic was the large crowd of fight fans that gathered at the Orpheum last Saturday evening to watch the welterweight champion of the Territory defend his title. And he defended it all right. Whatever possessed Silva to imagine he was a "demon" is a mystery to the fans. True it is that he mixed it a little for Sullivan in the first, but as soon as Sullivan had him gauged there was nothing to it. Again and again Silva would rush at his opponent only to hit him "where he wasn't." The clever foot work of Sullivan was too much for the Punchbowl favorite.

It was during the first round that Sullivan was struck at all. He seemed to be unprepared for the rushes of Silva, a la John L., and it was not until the second round that Sullivan began to sidestep and play with Silva.

In the third round Sullivan landed a right hook on Silva's jaw. It was not very hard or at least it did not seem to, but Silva fell to the floor and was counted out. Many of the fans were unanimous in agreeing the Silva quit and was not knocked out.

Here is the principal event by rounds: First round—Silva rushes and a clinch follows. Silva lands a right swing and Sullivan goes down. He does the same thing a few seconds later. They clinch and Silva uses his weight. Silva missed a mighty swing with his left to the jaw and puts right to body. Sullivan gets in a left jab to the face. Silva gets wild and misses some terrific swings. Sullivan is watching out for these fatal swings and keeps away from them as much as possible instead of staying as was the case at the opening of the round. Silva's nose is bleeding. He swings his right hand to the jaw and then clinch. Sullivan jabs with his left to the mouth, and again Silva is fighting aggressively as the going sounds.

Third round—Sullivan's persistent left seeks Silva's face. He dodges a right swing and puts a hard left on Silva's chin, ripping his right to the body. A hard left jab makes Silva look like relinquishing the contest. Sullivan tries to score a knockout at the ropes with a left swing, but misses. Sullivan fights Silva all over the ring and drops him with a right hook to the jaw. Referee Woods counts the fateful ten and the crowd breaks into the ring. Silva rolls over on his side. His face is gory. He makes no attempt to rise and the throng around him say that he quit and has not the heart to get up. His seconds have deserted him. A couple of onlookers and one man who was in his corner carry him to the dressing room in the seclusion of which he is quickly up and about.

The four-round preliminary between Kid Barry and Ah Sam at 125 pounds was a fight from start to finish. At the end of the third round Ah Sam was put down and out by a right swing to the jaw. He was out for some time as the blow was the last despairing blow from a winded man.

Kid Barry was a novice at the game. He was whipped before he went into the ring, and it was only after he was floored at the first blow and he became angry that he was able to get up and fight. And he did. They both did. Ah Sam had his nose broken in the first round, but he kept after his man, and it was in the third round that he had him nearly out. The Kid was winded. He took the count as far as nine time after time. But at last he saw his chance and a right swing to the Chinaman's jaw completed the business. Ah Sam went to sleep.

The bout between Hulihui and Sailor Morch of the U. S. S. Manning was scheduled to last ten rounds. At the end of the seventh round, however, Referee Billy Woods tapped Morch on the shoulder as the winner and the big crowd howled its approval. Big Bill took all of the punishment that it is possible for one man to take during the seven rounds and Sailor Morch looked at the end of the bout as if he had several more good ones left in him yet. The crowd was glad when the bout was stopped and the decision awarded to Morch.

It was the sailor from start to finish and it was only Hulihui's ability to take punishment that kept the fighting going as long as it did. Again and again the sailor landed with telling effects, but Bill took all that was coming. Morch received a few good ones himself, but at no time was he dazed. He won his fight by clean sport.

The crowd was large and all expressed themselves as being pleased with the outcome of the evening's sport. Few boxing bouts have been more successful in Honolulu.

IRON WORKERS WIN

Saturday the team from the Honolulu Iron Works won the relay swimming race from the team from the Myrtle Boat Club. The race was close and exciting. A large crowd was present. The teams were, in relay order: Myrtles—G. Beckert, E. Center, C. Givlin, J. Pattigan, W. Roth, W. Lyle, H. I. W. Townsend, Kennedy, O'Brien, Center, Swanson, G. Crozier.

MAILES' PLAYING SURPRISE FANS

SHUT THE CHAMPIONS OUT FOR SIX INNINGS—THEN LOST THE GAME BY A SCORE OF 3 TO 5.

Kams	4	1	3	25
Maile	4	0	4	0

Oahu 5, Kams 0.
H. A. C. 5, Maile 3.

The Oahus did not work very hard to run away from the Kams on Saturday. In fact they loafed and that is the reason that the score was no higher than it was. A decided inability on the part of Jones to handle the heavy pitching of Reuter was the cause of many of the big runs which the Oahus brought home.

Bob White in left field for the Oahu played his regular star game. One of the catches he made yesterday was one of the prettiest seen this year. After a long run he threw himself at the ball and caught it in one hand. He had barely time to reach it as it was really in the center fielders territory.

Hampton pitched a fairly good game but nothing like the one he pitched on Wednesday last. The big twirler was still a bit lame from his previous playing.

Reuter pitched a good game for the Kams. The Oahus are all heavy hitters and the fact that they got but 7 hits off of the big boy spoke well for Reuter's pitching.

Kams were weak in the field with the exception of the left field Lemon. He played at ball.
Davis at third for the Oahus caught a tip foul after a run clear to the bleachers. It was a splendid play.

MAILES PLAY WELL

The despised Maile team showed the fans Saturday that they are due to win a game soon. They held last years champions down for six long innings without a single run. The H. A. C. were stricken on the bum and could do nothing until Joy took his place in the box when the H. A. C.'s saw that it meant the game should the Mailes get any more runs.

Maile started off with a run in the first inning. That put the boys in line trim and it was in the sixth that they scored two more making their total for the day 3. The green shirters played the kind of ball that wins until Finner the first baseman made a fuke in attempting to put a man out at second. Then they went up into the clouds and before they could pull themselves down H. A. C. had sent four men across the plate. It was more hard luck on the part of the Mailes than it was good playing on the part of the H. A. C.'s that lost the game to the Mailes.

The Maile team as a whole was good. Freitas in the box played the game of his life. The red and white players just got five hits off of him. He used his head well in the box too. The boy only needs a little more experience to put him up among the best.

Jimmy Williams tried to hold down the slab but the Mailes were just a little too successful in finding the ball.
